The Republicans are so jubilant that they care very little about the cause to-night. The day was a beautiful one. and, according to tradition, perfect for the bringing out of a heavy Republican vote. Early in the day it was seen that a big total would be polled, and the very first returns that began to come in showed that the Republicans were gaining. A very significant report was that from Greenfield, the birthplace of Hon. John E. Russell, the Democratic candidate, where, from a Democratic plurality of 120 last year, Greenhalge got a plurality of 132.

PENNSYLVANIA.

A Big Majority for the Republican Ticket.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7 .- The election to-day closed the quietest political campaign in the State of Pennsylvania in years. In a few counties in the eastern part of the State local issues excited interest outside of party contests, and lively struggles over the Common Pleas judgeship, in a half dozen districts, brought out an exceptionally large vote. This was particularly true in Lackawanna, Schuylkill, Bucks and the Carbon mining districts. These are all more or less Democratic sections, with the possible exception of Lackawanna, which is pretty evenly divided, politically, and Blair, which is strongly Republican. In the eastern part of the State the greatest interest centered around the contest in Monroe and Corston districts, where a bitter fight has been waged by administration and anti-administration Democratic factions. Returns at midnight indicate a big Republican majority.

Boom for Reed. PITTSBURG, Nov. 7 .- Hon. John Dalzell, Republican, representing the Twenty-second Pennsylvania congressional district, started a presidential boom for Hon. Thomas B. Reed at a meeting of Republican ward workers at Oil City Hall to-night. The hall, which seats about two thousand, had been engaged by the county committee for the exclusive use of the heads of the various district organizations, and it was crowded to the doors. Congressman Dalzeil was called on for a speech, and after congratulating the Republicans on the general result of the election ha launched out into a culogy of Congressman Reed, in the course of which he said he hoped, in common with thousands of others, to see the day when Hon. Thomas B. Reed would be fill a high office at the bidding of an unelevated to the highest position in the gift | scrupulous body of plunderers.' of the people. The applause following this statement lasted several minutes. The election in Allegheny county to-day was the hottest in years. Ten tickets were in the field for county officers, and a determined fight was made on the regular Republican ticket, but their organization was the best they ever had, and their entire ticket, with possiby one exception, was elected by pluralities ranging from 6.000 to 10,000 on the State ticket. Fell. Republican Supreme judge, and Jackson, Republican State Treasurer, receive about 5,000 plurality. This evening excitement was intense, but the returns came in early, and being generally favorable to the Reoffices soon retired, and not long after midnight the streets had assumed their normal the result of the election the New York Staats Zeitung will say to-morrow: "The Democratic machine in our State has done its work thoroughly. It has wiped out last year's majority of nearly fifty thousand votes and delivered the State into the hands of the Republicans, as far as this was possible in yesterday's elections. It is a terrible defeat for the Democratic party, but will probably prove a blessing in disguise. It was better to defeat the party in this relatively unimportant election, and in this way compel it to reform itself, than to enable its present miserable leaders to continue upon the road followed of late years. It is certainly worthy of notice that Maynard was most heavily cut in the three cities with the strongest German-American population. It can be said that the Germans in New York, Buffalo and Brooklyn formed the nucleus of the opposition to Maynard, in whose nomination they attack against the highest interests of the commonwealth, against selfgovernment and the whole spirit of our institutions. Yesterday was a day of honor for the German-Americans in this State and their victory will encourage their countrythroughout the United States to de fend the liberty of the people, self-govern ment and honest administration against all machines which, parading as political or-ganizations, form conspiracies against the most sacred rights of the people and produce conditions which discredit our Republic feated them."

The result of yesterday's elections farnishes us with serious lessons and the future of the Democratic party will de-pend upon the question whether it is able to heed these lessons and their teachings." The Zeltung will say: "The victory in New York is complete. The reaction against the Democratic party is against all that it represents and embodies. None of its infamies have availed to save it from public condemnation, but each has added weight to the blow. To that particular facility of condemnation, but each has added weight to the blow. To that particular faction of Democratic politicians which is in control of the party organization, which caused Maynard, which fed on his infamy, and lifted him to the highest public station, which, empowered by his crime, tried to rivet itself in control of the State by laws that offered a bounty for villamy; the faction which in Erie, in Ren solar, in New York and in Kings counting practiced every form of electoral rascattly that ingenuity and long experience of all devise—to this criminal gang, the arm of popular indignation has delivered a shattering blow. The conspicuous feature of the election was the overwhelming defeat of Maynard, the Democratic candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, and the re-buke to Maynardism which it implied. The insolent attempt of David B. Hill, Richard Croker, Governor Flower and Lieutenant Governor Sheehan to foist on the people as a judge of our highest court a creature who was guilty of the crime of stealing election returns in order that Democrats might secure the State Legislature has met with the response that it deserved from patriotic Americans."

Recognize the Clean Sweep.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7. - The Press says this morning: "In 1892 the people voted under a blind, wayward, unreasoning impulse. In 1893 they have recovered their senses, and they speak their sober second thought. A year ago they were deluded' into voting a 'change.' Yesterday they proclaimed that they have had enough of it, and are eager to 'change' back to what they focilshly voted away."
The North American says: "The verdict of the country on the avowed policy of the Democratic administration with regard to the tariff has been rendered, and it is one of emphatic and general condemnation. Yesterday's vote admits of no other reasonable interpretation." The Times says: "The Republican organs will naturally and justifiably derive satisfaction from yesterday's sweep. They have been feeling badly for a year, and this will give them a less despairing view of the life, and yet the fact remains that these elections determine nothing and change nothing. They will not frighten the Presdent, and they will not change the attitude of Congress, which will go right along with the work marked out for it." The Inquirer says: "Is there a Democrat in the face of these facts who can have the bodiness to proclaim that the Republican victory is meaningless? Is there who can explain away P.epublican majority? The almost tlete reversal of opinion from one year ago is an unerring indication of the feeling that is abroad in the Nation. Ohio has declared for protection. There is no other lesson taught by the result. It is not necessary to go anywhere else for political pointers. Ohio has spoken so plainly and in such a direct manner that no one willing to understand can misunderstand."

A Voice from Chicago. CHICAGO, Nov. 7 .- Chicago papers comment as follows on the election: Inter Ocean-"It looks as though there has been a landslide. In New York, Massachusetts, Iowa, Ohio and Pennsylvania the Republican candidates have been elected by majorities, the magnitude of which cannot be determined at the time of writing this, but which are emphatic in rebuke of Demperatic free-trade policy, Democratic pension-hating policy and of the Democratic policy of selling national offices to the ighest bidder, and of paying election return robbers by gifts of places on the supreme bench of a great State. Record: "Notable Republican victories were won at the polls yesterday in various States. Chief of the causes is the serious financial disturbances of the present year. The belief that the Democratic promise of tariff changes has been, at least in part to blame for these evils doubtless influenced many voters." A Rebuke to Tammany. LONDON, Nov. 7 .- To Englishmen the chief interest in elections in the United States is in Ohio and in New York, where the infamous Tammany ring is the main factor in the fight. The Chronicle says it is grieved to be obliged to admit that Senator Hill and Governor Flower are openly working for the election of Judge Maynard and justifying Maynard's past disgraceful onduct on the ground of party expediency. "Therefore," it says, "it is not surprising that the better classes in New York are in open revolt against Tammany and that the question of which party is returned to power is treated as of secondary importance beset the question whether an admittedly dishonest judge shall continue to

AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

Returns Received by the Cabinet and Telephoned to Cleveland. WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. - Secretaries Gresham, Lamont, Hoke Smith and Morton received the election returns at the White House, in Private Secretary Thurber's room. A special wire delivered the bulletins. Such as were indicative of results were telephoned the President at Woodley. The members of the Cabinet at the White House attributed the results to the business depression of the past several months, and the statement was made that this was the worst possible time for the Democrats to have an election, while so many people were suffering from conditions that were not political, but wholly extraneous. Secretary Carlisle is out of the city and Secretaries Herbert and Bissell received the returns at their private residences.

LOCAL INTEREST.

Everybody Anxious to Know Results -Republicans Were Jubilant. There was an intense interest in Indianapolis as to the result of the elections in the several States. Early in the evening a crowd began to gather in front of the ournal office, and by the time the returns began to come in several hundred were shivering on the corner in the dense fog The first announcement that McKinley was aining heavily in all the precincts was received with hearty cheers. As the returns became more satisfactory the enthusiasm broke into many cheers. The telephone bells in the newspaper offices were kept ringing up till midnight, so great was the interest. The Democratic organ had a crowd over in front of its office, but the crowd went home early.

Mr. Fairbanks's View. Hon. C. W. Fairbanks, who took an active part in the Ohio campaign, was jubilant over the result last night. "The result is more significant in Ohio." said he, "than in any other State. Local questions were not in sight during the entire campaign, for it was fought on essential national lines. The tariff question was a paramount one. Mr. Neal was the author of the free-trade plank in the Democratic platform adopted at Chicago, and this made him stand out clearer as a free-trade candidate, while, on the other hand. Mr. McKinley, as the father of the famous protection bill, stood out the more prominently as a protection candidate. I think the result may be accepted as an expression of the wishes of the people that the McKinley bill the doctrine of protection, be not destroyed that no free-trade heresy be chacted into law. The prevailing distress was an element that helped the Republicans some. The laboring people who were misied into voting for the Democratic party and free

Another Scheme to Persecute and Rob Wealthy Jews.

Agapius Honcharenko, proprietor and editor of the Russian political journal pub-lished in this city, received a letter, last week, in which it is stated that the Russian officials have hit upon a new plan to rob the unfortunate Jews of that country. Hitherto the plan has been to squeeze all they could out of the unfortunate people before they could escape from the country, but no effort was made to control the direction of their going. So far all the Jews who have escaped have done so by way of Japan, but that road is blocked now. According to the letter, the wealthy Jews, who are the ones selected for prosecution, are now forbidden to have any communication with the Chinese frontier or the coast near Japan, and are forced to pass through eastern Siberia in order to reach the coast. Here all transportation is by means of dog sleighs in winter. The sufferings of the poor people thus forced to travel through the coldest and most barren part of that bleak country may be imagined. It is said that those who framed the new edict did so in order to force the exiles to

Wicked Waste of Fine Whisky.

I heard some gentlemen talking about the souvenirs that have been given away during the exposition. One man had a good joke on himself. He had an exhibit of fine whisky-so fine that it received the highest award for purity. He had faith that it would all the time, and never hesitated to say so. He gave it away very freely, and had for this purpose some pretty square bottles that held about two ounces filled One day a woman asked him for one of his souvenirs. He gave it to her willingly, and something there was about her appearance that impressed him so much that he remembered her when a few days afterward she returned and asked for a souve-He said: "Did I not give you one a few days ago?" "Yes," said the woman. "You did, but I would like another one very much." "Certainly," said the gentleman. "I am very glad you liked it. We consider our whisky the purest there is on the market.' "It is very fine," said the woman. "I go home from the fair so tired that I can scarcely walk. I take this and rub it on the soles of my feet, and in no time I feel like a different woman. I am ever so much obliged to you."

The gentleman says that he sat down in his chair without a word to say. That his fine velvety whisky had come to being a tonic for the soles of the feet was a shock from which he did not recover in several hours. His rivals in the same business have never allowed him to forget it.

MacMahon's Ignorance. New York Recorder.

The late Marshal MacMahon was remarkably ignorant of things which did not acturelate to military matters. An illustration of this was given during his presidency of the French republic. M. Rochefort, with Pascal Grousset, Olivier Pain and other risoners, succeeded in escaping from the convict settlement at New Caledonia, and managed to make his way to Melbourne. The Marshal was much concerned about this escape, and said to one of his Ministers: "This is a serious business. We must telegraph to the United States government and see whether we cannot get them ex-The faithful Emmanuel d'Harcourt, his private secretary, pulled him by he sleeve and whispered: Marshal, Melbourne is in Australia, not in the United States." The honest old soldier, fairly overwhelmed with such omniclence, looked at his secretary with wondering admiration for several seconds, and then, turning to his ministers said: "That infernal d'Harcourt knows everything."

The party, accompanied by Col. Bacon, one of the counsel to the Republican general committee, and by Gaynor's law partners, Edward M. Grout and C. H. Hyde, arrived at the Town Hall a few minutes before the opening of the polls. They had scarcely time to get out of their carriages before they were set upon. Herbert S. Worthly was struck a violent blow in th face, and Dr. Marshall had a portion of his whiskers torn off. The Rev. Kent was knocked down and trampled upon, and, together with Peter Rosenbeck, is missing Another of the watchers had his head cut and all of them are more or less bruised According to the story of one of the watchers, the party were about to alight from their carriages, when Colonel Bacon was accosted by McKane, who remarked that he had been looking for him. Colonel Bacon produced the injunction which had been secured from the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon, and attempted to serve it upon McKane. McKane refused the papers, and called his officers to take Colonel Bacon into custody, which was immediately done The rest of the party were ordered to get out of town as soon as possible. The injunction restrained McKane and his officers from preventing the watchers entering the various polling places and remaining there throughout the day and until the count was ended. Boss McKane's action was scored on all sides, irrespective of party, and the press is unanimous in condemning it. A number of prominent citizens of Brook lyn, members of the Republican committee and Citizens' Union, sent the following telegram to Governor Flower, requesting him to call out the militia to quell "boss" Mc Kane and his band at Gravesend, and enforce the order of Justice Barnard, of the Supreme Court. Sheriff Courtney refused to interfere. The message sent to the Governor was as follows: "You doubtless know of the violent in terference of McKane, chief of police, and others aiding and abetting in the town of Gravesend, Kings county, with a fair election and rights of electors, and also the contemptuous and violent interference by those men since Saturday last with citizens acting under the decision of the Supreme Court. All this was followed this morning by the criminal exclusion of lawful watchers, protected by orders of the Supreme Court, violent assaults upon those watchers and their illegal imprisonment, accompanied by open denunciation and deflance of the Supreme Court. The orders of the Supreme Court are of no avail. An appeal to the sheriff was made in vain for protection. He peremptorily refused. "We, the citizens of Kings county, ask your instant interference as Governor of the State in this grave and unprecedented emergency. We ask this in behalf of citizens generally and law and order and fair Governor Flower sent the following reply: "Your telegram just received at 4:15 o'clock after my return from New York. It does not state in what respect the sheriff has failed to do his duty, but I have wired him that complaint has been made, and directed him to do his full duty under the statute, to preserve order and the enforcement of the law, and to that end an election and fair count shall be had. All pub-He officers over whom I have the power of removal must do their full duty or they will be removed from office.'

Sheriff Courtney, of Kings county, wired Governor Flower that the charges against him are untrue.

A riot took place during the balloting to-day in the first polling district of the Second ward in Blissville, The police clubbed the rioters into submission. Roughs precipitated the fight by seizing the polling booths. Special policeman McNully knocked down Patrick Moran, a rioter. Moran struck his head upon a stone curbing and received a deep gash back of the car, and is in a critical condition.

A dispatch from Lansingburg, N. Y., says: There was a fight here to-night between police and citizens. The police seized the ballot boxes in three districts and started for the police station. The citizens followed and attempted to rescue the boxes. A policeman shot Josiah E. West, a prominent citizen, in the head.

Murphy and Hill Spenk. ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 7 .- When informed of the election trouble at Gravesend to-day United States Senator Murphy had only this to say: "If Mr. McKane has disobeyed the court he will be punished." Senator Hill was also interrogated with reference to the affair, and replied: "Mr. McKane would not disobey a court order without some idea that his course would be sustained." Mr. Hill, however, would not express an opinion in the absence of close details of the occurrence.

BATTLED ALL DAY. Red - Hot Time Between Toughs at

Buffalo Polling Places. BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 7.-The First ward was a scene of battle from sunrise to sunset. Over a hundred patrolmen and as many more special deputies were detailed there to keep order. The chief strife was over the election of aldermen. Socalled ward "boss" Jack White, who, as alleged, had tyrannized over the inhabitants for upwards of a dozen years, was opposed in this election by contractors Connors and Kennedy, one a Republican and the other a Democrat. Both, as alleged, had colonized the ward with hundreds of hirelings and scoopers, who had taken up a residence in the ward for thirty days prior to election and were marshaled to the polls to-day like selected for muscular prowess. In the fourth district, for example, four pugilists were stationed at the door of the booth. "Billy" Baker, "Reddy" Strauss and "Charlie" Marks, and one Morgan, alias Kennedy, made up this quartet, and there was very little trouble there. One or two of White's zealous adherents who insisted on getting too close to the polls were picked up bodily and dropped in the mud by Baker or Morgan, but no fighting ensued. The White men, after vainly trying to get inside the line and make a showing, gave it up in disgust. Not only was it impossible for the adherents of White to deposit their votes, but even watchers were refused admission.

Deputy Sheriffs and Others Shot by Democratic Thugs.

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 7.-The election in this city to-day resulted in small-sized riots in several of the precincts. The Democratic policemen and ward workers took possession of the polls and the Republicans appealed to Sheriff West to call out the military. Many deputy sheriffs were shot and beaten. The following have been admitted to Cooper Hospital: SAMUEL FULMAN, No. 812 Chestnut

ROWS AT PITTSBURG.

Polls Closed to Prevent a General

Fight in One District. PITTSBURG, Nov. 7.—The bitter feeling growing out of the factional fights here resulted in a number of rows at various polling places. In the second precinct of the 'Bloody" Fifth ward, a suggestive name obtained many years ago, a dispute arose over the refusal of Peter McGraw, a Republican member of the election board, to receive a vote on a tax receipt of 1891. Democratic County Chairman Brennan was called, and he insisted that the receipt was good until next May. This enraged Mc-Graw, who drew a knife on Brennan, but before he could use it he was overpowered. Judge Stowe decided that the man had a right to vote on the receipt. In the second district of the First ward the Republicans claimed that the Democrats refused to allow men suspected of not favoring their candidate for sheriff to vote. A dispute arose, and Councilman McHugh struck policeman Patrick Farrell, an ex-pugilist, on the nose, drawing blood. Farrell then knocked Mc-Hugh down and a general row was imminent, when Magistrate Donohue appeared and closed the polls. A force of officers were then detailed to guard the polls, and later they were opened again.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. - Superintendent Byrnes requested all the newspaper representatives at police headquarters to come into his office about 6 o'clock to-night, and said to them: "No altercation occurred at the polls in this city to-day that has been brought to the notice of the police. I sent out a general call, a short time ago, asking each station, and the answer has been reported from all, 'No.' The people of this city-2,000,000 of them-are to be congratulated on their loyalty to law and order, with bloodshed and disorder all around usat Camden, at Gravesend, at Pittsburg, and other places-and yet here everything yond this, where several hundreds more has been conducted in peace and quiet. can find accommodation. In other cases the watchers were all allowed within the rail as soon as the matter was brought to the attention of the inspectors of elections. But two cases of false impersonation were reported here. About noon two men reported that when they went to the polls to vote they were informed that votes had already been cast on their names. They were told that the only thing they could do under the circumstances was to go before the courts, which were open, and obtain a mandamus compelling the inspectors to take and deposit their votes in the ballot box. SOME BIG FIGURES. The Enormous Amount of Material Used in Fire Works at Chicago. Chicago Tribune.

It is said on good authority fireworks have been the salvation of the fair as far as the night attendance was concernedthat they were the potent factor in holding the people over after sundown and in drawing them to the fair after that time. Whether this is so or not, it is a fact that Chicago has had by far the largest amount of fireworks displayed in one year in any city in the world. Henry J. Pain, when asked for some figures relative to the amount of material used, said: "There have been 105,000 one, two, three, four, six and eight-pound rockets fired, which, if placed in line one foot apart, would make an unbroken stream of aerial gems twenty miles long. The largest flight was that in a bunch of 10,000 at the Fourth of July display. Fifteen thousand shells have been sent heavenward in sizes from sixteen to sixty inches, the largest ever fired in the world. If these were all fired at once people would see in the heavens 52,500,000 separate burning stars in every color of the rainbow. Five hundred aerial gems or maroons have been exploded at an altitude of 1,500 feet and 200 special set pieces have been burned. If these were all laid down as one piece they would cover an area of 475,000 square feet. In the preparation of these 943,000 colored lances, or separate burning pieces, were used, and 22:,000 six-foot lengths of quick matchabout 270 miles in all. Quick match is the flash fuse that is used to ignite the face of the set piece. The largest device used was that illustrating the burning of Chicago which was 400 feet long and forty feet high Forty-four thousand Roman candles were burned, 650 various wheel and moving devices, and twenty-five tons of red fire for illuminating the lake, Grand Basin and the Midway. Twenty thousand aquatic novelties dazzled the crowds with their brilliancy. To prepare all this work twenty expert pyrotechnists and one hundred aux-party aferward. The Republicans of Montana owe no allegiance to the gold bugs of the East whether they call themselves Republicans or Democrats. The Republicans of Montana are ready to advocate the policy of any party that can accomplish the most for silver. The New York World, Times, Herald, Post and Tribune are now happy. They and the people they represent have ruined $500,000,000 worth of property values in the West. If the city of New York should be burned to a cinder to-morrow the Western press would be quite as justifiable in rejoicing over its misfortune as the Eastern press now is in crowing over the defeat of silver.

THE MIDWINTER FAIR.

Some Interesting Features of San Francisco's Coming Show. Philadelphia Record.

The Midwinter International Exposition at San Francisco is progressing very favorably, and it is promised that everything shall be in readiness for the opening in January. The grounds are in good shape and the buildings are rapidly nearing com-

There will be a great number of novel features at the show. The famous Chinese "Six Companies," of San Francisco, is arranging a very elaborate exhibit, consisting of an Oriental building 160 feet long by ninety in width, with a center courtyard 80x40 feet, set out with rare Chinese plants. In one end of the building is a Chinese theater. On either side of the courtyard are open booths for the manufacture of Chinese productions. The crowning exterior feature of this building will be a Chinese pagoda seventy-five feet high, fashioned after the celebrated tower of Nankin. The roof will be of tiles, with fantasticallytwisted carved figures of the fabled dragon projecting from the angles. Another concession that has been granted is for a reproduction of the celebrated Prater, of Vienna, in a space of 72,000 square Entrance to the grounds will be through a massive, artistic gateway, beyond which will be various bits of architecture of a pleasing and striking character. All these are now in course of construction. There will be a concert hall, seventy-five feet square; a theater of Moorish design, 60x90 feet; a Louvre restaurant and a score of ornamental booths in which Austro-Hungarian wares are to be manu-

Arrangements have also been completed and work is now progressing on an immense Japanese tea garden, which is to be another prominent feature in connection with the exposition. Enturing by a castle gateway, or shuronomon, the visitor will find himself in a veritable Japanese domain, even the shrubbery being transplanted from the flowery kingdom, and where Japanese maidens in their dainty gowns will serve tea and confections while Japanese dances and Japanese music may be seen and heard on every hand. Among the many applications for permission to make novel exhibits at the coming midwinter fair in San Francisco is one by Edward M. Greene. It is a mammoth scales of jusice. The figure of jus tice is 150 feet high. The cross beam of the scales she holds in her hand is three hundred feet long. Each scale is a car capable of holding fifty people, who may be carried to a height of 288 feet. The whole arrangement is to be manipulated by machinery placed beneath the base of the statue. There is telephonic communication between each car, and the engine room and everything may be regulated smoothly and A model has been entered in the competition for the allegorical fountain of the grand court of the exposition. It was com-pleted by George Wagner, of Chicago. It

The central figure of a group is America, armed and protecting California. The heroic figure symbolizing the State is accompanied by the familiar figure of the bear. Astride the bear is a Cupid, and around the two principal figures of America and California are Ceres and Pomona offering a wealth of grains and fruits, and Abundance pouring out her gifts from a cornucopia. The central feature of the exposition grounds, geographically, if not otherwise, will be the electric light tower 270 feet high, with an elevator running to the height of 220 feet. The base of the tower will occupy a space fifty feet square, while the first gallery, eighty feet from the ground, will have a seating capacity of 200. There will be three other galleries extending be-

ventions at the Fair. New York Recorder. Mrs. Caroline Westcott Romney enjoys the distinction of having had the greatest number of exhibits entered for competition at the world's fair. She claims to have had more articles of domestic utility on exhibition, all inventions of her own brain. than any other man or woman at the fair. One of her exhibits has already been awarded a prize, and the others have not at been passed upon. No less than fourteen articles have been offered for inspection by Mrs. Romney.

Among the inventions is a water-cooler that does not require ice, a modern dinner pall, a refrigerator for the household, a milk refrigerator, a refrigerating closet or store room, a refrigerating cellar or chilling room for slaughter house purposes, a heat conservator or chest in which food may be kept warm for an indefinite time, a warming closet for butler's pantries, a domestic water-filter, warranted to prove a mystic labyrinth in which the rambling microbe is sure to get lost, a foot-stove for carriages or compartment cars, and a water-filter and a water-cooler combined. She has also invented a restaurant conveyor, both simple and compound, for carrying food from restaurants to outside cus-

Mrs. Romney, who has thought of making all these things, is an accomplished writer for the press, and has edited and published a few trade papers on her own account She was educated in Ohio, and at the age of sixteen she was teaching Greek at a school in that State. When she was twenty years of age she held next to the highest position in one of the graded schools of Chicago, and a little later became connected with the Times, of that city, occupying the position of literay editor. She gave up her literay career to marry a bright young lawyer, but his death in the course of a few months left her a widow and threw her once more upon her own resources. She went back to the Times and wrote up the country along the lines of a number of Western and Southwestern railways. She was one of the candidates for an appointment as one of the women to be sent to South America by the board of lady managers of the world's fair, and her application received the indorsement of some of the most prominent men and women of the United States. It was found, however, that no funds were available for the object of her mission.

THE STREET-CAR LINES.

Statistics of the Amount of Business Done During the Chicago Fair. icago Inter Ocean.

The street car lines did a tremendous business. The Chicago City Railway Company running directly to the fair did the greatest business, of course. President George H. Wheeler, while averse to giving the exact figures, gave the total sum carried 94,000,000 persons during the six months while during the tweive months of 1832 the total was but 88,000,000. On Chicago day 762,000 persons were carried one way at 1 ents apiece. To do this business the company built 500 extra cars and 100 extra grip

The West Side Company carried some

60,000,000 of people, while on the North Side

36,501,384 passengers were carried against 27,859,511 during the six months of 1892, an increase of 8,641,883 people. On the Fourth of July the North Side road carried 233,130 persons against 187,258 in 1892. On Chicago day 215,863 passengers were carried, though on Sunday, Oct. 8, the desire to see Lincoln Park was so great that the company carried 328.219 passengers. The South Side Elevated road carried 22,248,779 passengers in six months. The average for October was 174,000 passengers a day. The company had eighty cars, but built 100 more for the fair. The big days were as follows: Chicago day, 294,800; Oct. 10, 200,962; Oct. 11, 196,189; Oct. 18, 201,993; Oct. 19, 199,979; July 4, 178,000. The World's Fair Steamship Company
